Dedication

Bellingham Memorial High School Library
Bellingham, Massachusetts 02019

We the class of 1959 respectfully dedicate the Epilogue to Mr. Emile W. Niedzwiadek, our loyal advisor. He has given much time and assistance to us in all our Senior activities. We are certain that his guidance and understanding will contribute to our success and that we as individuals shall benefit by following the fine example he has set for us as future citizens.

STAFF MEMBERS

Madeleine Aubin, Thomas Asselin, Frank Bryda, Edgar Allard, Ronald Bonollo, Lloyd Leveille, Yvonne Lussier, Woodrow Sweet, Judith Rattie, Vascen Bogigian, Nancy Cameron, Doris Pelletier, Irene Purich, and Marjorie Spear. ADVISOR: Emile W. Niedzwiadek.

Class Will

We, the class of 1959, being of witless mind and body, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

To Mr. Collins we leave a new golf bag with three wedge irons for those happy little journeys to the sandtraps.

To Mr. Niedzwiadek we leave a megaphone so he won't strain his throat in study periods.

To Mrs. Kelley we leave a portable television so her husband can't make her come home early on Saturday nights to watch "Gunsmoke."

To Mr. Flynn we leave a year's supply of "Tums." Take it easy on your nerves, Mr. Flynn, it's only a game.

To Mr. Frye we leave the dreamy eyes of all the Senior girls.

To Miss McKenna we leave an audition with Lawrence Welk and his Orchestra.

To Mr. Conlan we leave a box of chocolate raisins.

To Miss Murphy we leave ten boxes of ink erasers to make up for all those missing erasers we borrowed.

To Mrs. Baskin we leave a new cookbook, "So These Are Cupcakes?"

Tommy Asselin leaves to the President of the Class of '60 all his extra worries and a large bag entitled COOPERATION.

Bobby Sears leaves to Andy Matott an autographed picture for Andy to giggle at.

Lloyd Leveille leaves his black and white shoes to any future senior boy who knows how to play hop-scotch.

Gail Ambler leaves to Barbara Eldredge a bottle of smelling salts for those vaccination shots.

Greg Tremba leaves his disc jockey ability to Ed Sadowski. Keep trying, Ed, you'll get your big chance some day.

Larry Tebeau leaves to Andy Matott a year's supply of lunches to stop him from scrounging.

Jerry Chase leaves his pesty ways to any junior boy who likes to chase girls up and down the corridor.

Vascen Bogigian leaves his brother Bobby.

Victor Brodeur leaves to Paul Jacques a book on how to get along with teachers. The first chapter is "Don't Go to School."

Lee Fleurette leaves to Bob Conte his heavy sneakers so he can dribble without going up with the ball.

Margie Spear leaves her laugh to anyone who would dare to take it.

Sandy Flinton leaves Andy to all the Junior girls. Take it easy on him, girls, he's shy.

Jeanne Vincent leaves with the pleasant thought of wedding bells ringing in her ears.

Frank Bryda leaves his typing ability to any Junior business student who doesn't like to type.

Connie Kozimor leaves her "Pat Boone Button" to any new enlistment to his fan club.

Judy Rattie leaves her speed in shorthand to any Junior who doesn't mind the writer's cramp that goes with it.

Evelyn Laflamme leaves her ability to be the fastest Driver Education student in the history of Bellingham High.

Nancy Cameron leaves a life preserver to Lucille Chamberland in case she goes swimming at the quarries again.

Doris Pelletier and Yvonne Lussier leave as noisily as they entered.

Ralph Nason leaves all the gum he has chewed during his high school career to anyone who wants the trouble of scraping it off the desks.

Men must try and try again. They must suffer the consequences of their own mistakes, and learn by their own failures and their own successes.
